Debate Sales Tax Issue At February 25 Meet

Pros and cons of the one-cent municipal sales tax will be aired at a public hearing February 25, the city council decided in study session Wednesday night.

As a prelude to the hearing, councilmen will hold a special meeting February 6 to decide what will be done with the some $280,000 "windfall" revenue, should the special levy be passed.

And from sentiments expressed Wednesday, it appeared the controversial tax already has a decided majority in its favor.

Councilman Micheal De Bernardi first proposed that the council meet in advance of the hearing, "to come up with some proposal so the public will know what it's for. Many people against the tax might turn for it if they heard the arguments for use of the money."

Mayor Joseph Verducci concurred, and said he was "ready to discuss the tax right now."

Councilman Del Wilson, who termed the one-cent levy an "equitable" tax, also said he was prepared to vote "any time."

Fourth councilman to lean toward the tax, Poul Hupf, declared the sales tax "spreads the burden equally over as broad a surface as possible."

Only Councilman Sanford Vickers was outspoken against the tax. He declared the state three-cent sales tax was "put in to balance the budget and they promised to take it off. They never did. It's a tax upon the people with the least ability to pay. We could earmark the funds for one purpose and another council could change the use for something else."

COLMA ASKS ORDINANCE FOR PENNY SALES TAX

Colma town council Wednesday night instructed their city attorney, James Halley, to prepare an ordinance for establishing a one-cent municipal sales tax.

The measure is expected to be voted on at the January 23 adjourned meeting. Sentiment appeared in favor of the special levy.

Should Colma adopt the tax, it would bring to six the number of San Mateo county cities espousing it. The county supervisors have indicated they will make the tax county-wide as soon as a majority of the 14 cities approve it.

In other action, the Colma council appointed Blanche Lagomarsino to fill the city clerk position, left vacant by the death of Edward Weisenburger. The term expires in 1958.

By MONTE DAYTON

Things may have picked up in 1956, but according to report made for the last half of 1955, the Northgate Transit Company jitneys were netting about $10 a month.

According to report on file with the public utilities commission, the jitneys had total expenses of $9665.79, against net income of $9730.40, for a net six-months profit of $64.61.

Higher Taxes, Spending

While 1957 is still young we'd like to refresh our readers minds about an issue that this city's council will resolve within the next few months.

That issue is the abomination known as the one-cent municipal sales tax.

Nobody likes the sales tax. We don't like the sales tax. Not even politicians like the sales tax because openly espousing it is no way to win friends and influence people. But many city fathers look upon a sales tax as the only method of gaining sufficient money to fatten always-depleted city treasuries.

This is, to a certain extent, true. It is a method of fattening city treasuries. But that doesn't mean the treasury won't be just as depleted when the end of the year rolls around again.

Municipal spending is geared to the city's financial resources. In spring the city councilmen sit down and figure out a budget. They also anticipate how much revenue the city will receive during the coming fiscal year. If funds are short, the budget is then whittled accordingly.

This may impose minor hardships on some departments, but in the long haul this method of running city business fosters economy.

Should the tax be imposed and city coffers enriched by $250,000 next year, it is inevitable that the following year's budget would be increased by that much or more. If the money is there, it will be spent. Such is government.

The reasons we are opposed to the sales tax are many. It would: impose an additional tax burden on the average family and many senior citizens with little ability to pay; result in loss of business for the community; encumber business people with additional bookwork; and, perhaps, serve as a stepping stone for other similar taxes.

Generally, the sales tax is a nuisance. Specifically, it is a dangerous instrument that can telescope into higher taxes and wastrel spending in government.

Schools Group Plans New Program With 'Backbone'

After taking a few pot shots at the present school administration, a dozen citizens decided Monday night to ask for a meeting of the apparently defunct League for Better Schools with an eye toward forming a new "stronger" organization for school betterment.

Headed by acting chairman Thomas Noonan of Sterling Park, the group, meeting at Westlake school, formed a five-man committee to meet with the League's executive board and determine how much life was still left in the League. Also named to the committee were Betty Brawley, 217 Bellevue avenue; Paul Majourau, 15 Westmont; Lawrence Freiberg, 30 Village Lane; and W. L. Leavick, 41 Maywood.

Purpose of Monday's gathering was to form an organization to take the place of the League for Better Schools, because of increasing "dissatisfaction" with the League's inactivity. The League's purpose had been to encourage qualified candidates to run for Jefferson Elementary school district board of trustees. It has not met since April, 1956.

"More Backbone"

Noonan said, "We should form a group with more backbone." He suggested that the new group not only select qualified candidates but give them active support in school board elections.

Feeling was not unanimous on the active support of candidates. Dr. John Eiler, former president of the League, said that "Once you start backing candidates, you might be able to do it successfully once, but then you're dead. Every other organization will start doing the same thing."

Leavick charged that the League did more harm than good

BPOA, CITY TO IRON OUT EROSION, FLOOD CONTROL

Erosion and flood control, Broadmoor's most knotty problem, will be the topic next Tuesday night at Daly City city hall when the Broadmoor Property Owners association gathers for a special meeting with the "people responsible" for the excess water.

Fearing a possible recurrence of last year's torrential rains which washed out yards and portions of homes on the hillside areas, the Broadmoor directors have summoned local builders, county and city officials and school superintendents to the special confab.

Scheduled to attend are M. A. Grant, county engineer, Howard Stites and Otis Calhoun, Daly City city manager and director of public works, respectively, representatives of builders George McKeon and Henry Doelger, and Edward Morgan, Jefferson High School district superintendent.

Sterling Park and Garden Village areas, which have been working closely with Broadmoor on problems of an area-wide nature, will be represented by Tom Noonan and Stanley Brown, respectively.

Bob Buchanan, president of the BPOA, said he and Don Williams, erosion committee chairman, "tramped the hills Saturday in a very close survey and it doesn't look too good for this year. There is a great danger that this year's washouts may be worse than 1956."

Buchanan said his association "wants to meet with the people who are developing the property above us and are responsible for the heavier run-off. We'd like to take the necessary steps now to handle the drainage before it's too late."

Stites Says Wages Now Don't Draw Top Workers

A blanket five per cent pay increase for all city employees and substantial raises for several department heads were pledged by the city council Wednesday night.

In a report to the council, City Manager Howard Stites revealed that the city had been "unable to attract qualified personnel under the present wage scale." He declared the city was "not successfully competing in the employment market."

At budget time, the council had approved only a 2½ per cent wage increase. The five per cent proposal, which still must be reviewed by the personnel board, would bring the total pay hike for employees to 7½ per cent this year.

Adds $11,585

The five per cent increase, if made effective on February 1, will add $11,585 to salary costs for the balance of the fiscal year.

Stites declared that of this total, all but $5656 could be covered from existing salary appropriations, while the remainder would come from undistributed reserve in various departments.

In addition to the blanket increase, Stites proposed that the position of assistant chief of police and police captain be created. The assistant chief post, to be filled by an open competitive examination, would pay from $542 to $628. Captain, offering a salary range of $468 to $542, will be filled by promotional examination.

The manager also urged that the fire chief's salary be raised from $598 to $628, police chief's from $628 to $692 and director of finance from $598 to $659, with a top of $727.

Cite Cost of Living

Stites said the sudden decision to boost employees' wages was substantiated by the cost of living index, which had increased from 115.3 when the budget was drafted, to 119.0 for the third quarter of 1956.

Councilmen expressed themselves "heartily in accord" with the wage revisions, but agreed that Stites recommendations should first go to the personnel board for review.

Councilman Paul Hupf urged that the police captain and assistant chief positions be filled "as soon as possible."

In other action at Wednesday's

Construction Of Vista Mar Delayed Again

Construction of Vista Mar elementary school in Westlake hit still another snag Wednesday night as trustees moved to readvertise bids for the second time due to a controversy over contract specifications.

Two weeks ago, the board tentatively awarded the job to the low bidder, Ed Eoff Construction Co., subject to state approval. But the second low bidder, Hart & Hynding, immediately protested the move, claiming their estimate on the basic structure and site development was lower than the Eoff bid.

State officials and the district attorney early this week advised that the "aggregate" low bidder should get the contract, and recommended that the bids be readvertised to avert a possible lawsuit.

The Eoff bid for the total project was $484,000, while Hart & Hynding's was $486,200. Other bidders were Hub Pacific, $493,500; B&R, $532,515; E. H. Moore & Sons, $554,500, and Theo G. Meyer & Sons, $561,500.

Trustees Michael Callan and Hartley Appleton suggested bids be readvertised to include a provision for alternate bids for the school's multi-purpose room. The board, however, decided to advertise for a "package" bid on recommendation of Architect Mario J. Ciampi.

Date for opening the new bids has been set as Friday, January 25, according to Superintendent H. Z. Weibel. Barring additional mixups, work on the site will begin about mid-January.

Bids on Vista Mar originally were advertised six weeks ago, but confusion over the Vista Mar and Vista Grande bid openings resulted in a call for new bids.

Trustees this week hope to have approval from the state on the Vista Grande primary school contract, awarded to Hub Pacific Co. at a cost of $253,300.

New Jitney Routes Held 'Surprise'

News that Northgate Transit company had sumitted application to the state utilities commission for two route changes was met with surprise by the city council Wednesday night.

Councilmen learned for the first time that applications were before the PUC proposing one new route to Stonestown from Westlake, another to the Palisades area in Westlake.

Mayor Joseph Verducci said it wasn't "protocol" for the jitney company to make application for route changes without first consulting the council, although the city had no control of the routes.

Jack Kendree of Henry Doelger Builder, Inc., said in a letter to the council that he was "surprised and disturbed" by the company's action. Kendree said he was not advised of the route change.

Kendree declared, "Millions of dollars have been spent in developing the Westlake Shopping Center," and added that the Stonestown route would be a "definite

W'lake Seeks More Police, Trash Switch

Westlake Improvement Association kicked off a busy New Year Monday night with two firm resolutions — more police protection and a revised garbage pickup plan.

Heeding director Edward Murphy's statement that crime is on the increase in Westlake, particularly from 9 p.m. to 5 a.m., the board moved to immediately ask the city council and police chief for more police coverage.

The association also appointed a five-man committee to "negotiate" with councilmen and the Daly City Scavenger Co. for a new garbage pickup system. Residents, preferring to have their garbage cans picked up outside their garage doors instead of near the curb, repeatedly have protested the "careless" work of the scavengers. WIA's last letter to the garbage firm went unanswered, according to Hartley Appleton, association attorney.

Named to the garbage committee were Ed McGill, Charles Santuccio, Richard Stark, Murphy and Appleton.

Cass Norton, new board president, urged quick action after hearing a report on speeding and

School Site Needs Brings Delay On Zita Zoning OK

Residential zoning for some 200 acres of Zita Corporation land was approved unanimously by the Daly City planning commission Tuesday night, but action on six acres of property up for commercial zoning was postponed to await Jefferson Elementary School district site needs.

Technically, zoning for the large parcel which lies south of Edgemar road and west of Junipero Serra was established as R-1b, which provides for minimum lot size of 33 x 100 feet in the St. Francis Heights subdivision.

The planners also approved commercial zoning for 24½ acres just off Junipero Serra boulevard. George McKeon of the Zita corporation said this section will include a million-dollar professional building and smaller retail stores.

On request of school superintendent H. Z. Weibel, the commission withheld action on McKeon's request for commercial zoning on two small parcels between Pierce street and Edgemar road.

Needs Greater

Weibel explained that condemnation proceedings are pending for property which lies adjacent to the proposed commercial area. He said the district's original estimate of acreage needs for the Margaret Pauline Brown school site may have to be expanded to include some of the property planned for commercial devel-

Callan Hits DC 'Zoning' Of Clinic Site

Supervisor Thomas Callan charged yesterday that Daly City may have lost its opportunity for a north county health center by zoning acreage off Edgemar road commercial.

Terming the council "pitifully behind on planning," Callan explained that the county had planned to buy three acres of property off Junipero Serra for a north county health center.

(Tuesday night the Daly City planning commission recommended that two parcels of the Mc-

Grading Halted On McKeon Subdivision

Grading on the St. Francis Heights subdivision came to a complete halt this week in face of a threat by Mike Callan that he would seek a court restraining order to stop work.

Callan's threat was made after he and George McKeon of the Zita Corporation, subdividers of the tract, could not agree on a contract for grading Callan's land.

McKeon said he had not been served with any legal document but had stopped grading pending outcome of a partition suit between himself and Callan.

The partition suit involving disputed ownership of property in the Zanone estate is scheduled to be heard Monday in Superior Judge Louis B. Dematteis court.

Keon property be zoned commercial, but took no action on the property referred to by Callan at request of Jefferson Elementary School district, which plans to condemn some of the land for a school site.)

Callan made his remarks at a meeting of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce at which Daly City councilmen were guests.

"Twice As Much"

Callan said that by zoning the land commercial and removing it from the agricultural status, the county "would have to pay twice as much for the land. If we do, I won't go for it."

The supervisor said "the county has bent over backwards for the city. Daly City better get on the ball and get some planning commissioners. If Daly City thinks they can run things by themselves, it's all right with me."

He declared, "The cities need our (the county's) help more than we need their's."

Asked by Chamber president Hugh Smith Jr. if county money had actually been allocated for the health center, Callan replied, "The architect has been hired and the money is in the county treasury."

Delay Zoning

The land which Callan thought had been recommended for commercial zoning by the planning commission will not be zoned until the school district designates its needs in the territory.

Councilman Micheal De Bernardi said Callan was "notoriously wrong" in inferring that the city did not cooperate with the county.

Councilman Del Wilson charged that "this was the first time" he had ever heard the county indicate exactly where they planned a site for the health center.

tives told the board that the firm will do everything possible to have the Vista Grande classrooms ready next September. The district hoped to have both Vista Mar and Vista Grande classrooms available at the start of the fall semester, but delays virtually have ruled out the possibility. The situation poses the likelihood of temporary double sessions again.

Trustees also approved a letter to the city planning commission, protesting the commercial zoning of two parcels of land in the McKeon subdivision. One of the parcels is on the district's seven-acre M. Pauline Brown site and the other adjacent to it. The district seeks three additional 10-acre sites in the area, but has received no commitment yet from the McKeons.

The board accepted appraisals on the Abraham Lincoln site and will begin negotiations immediately for purchase of the property. Appraisal bids on the Westlake basin site were tabled pending a report from soil engineers.

2. Held over proposal from California Pacific Title Insurance company to purchase city-owned lot on Junipero Serra boulevard for $7500.

3. Held over action on proposed survey to determine value of California Water Service holdings until such time as Broadmoor "makes a definite expression" on annexation to Daly City. The survey would cost approximately $1600. In event of annexation, Daly City plans to purchase the California Water Service.

Must Vacate Dump

5. Discussed recommendation from police chief to fingerprint all applicants for used car lot licenses.

7. Heard proposal from Hupf that city enact an ordinance establishing a capital outlay fund.

8. Received letter from Robert S. Hirsch, 15 Fairway, asking immediate adoption of the sales tax.

Street Car Tracks

9. Directed Stites to check with the state about possible removal of street car tracks on Mission street.

10. Received letter of thanks from Frank A. Bach of the PT&T for city employees' assistance in distributing boxes of food for the needy here at Christmas time.

12. Asked that Stites establish a "line of communication" with Broadmoor representatives so that they are kept informed of any forthcoming action on annexation.

meeting Monday night.

The organizational session was scheduled for 8 p.m. at Westlake school.

At 8:15, with the building still locked up and no lights on, two Scout groups slated to meet at the school gave up and went home.

The schools group, having faith in the schools, kept waiting.

Finally, at 8:45 a janitor arrived on the scene and opened up.

One observer commented that the new schools group now had its first plank in its program for improvement of the schools: punctuality.

GUS SEBASTIANI, proprietor of San Pedro Lunch and Central Club, would like his many friends to know he has not yet cashed in his chips in this life.

Passers-by who knew that Gus had been sick for the past week put two-and-two together when they saw a wreath hanging in front of the Central Club Wednesday.

Two people even called and asked when the services were.

But it was all just part of the "retribution" staged by VINCE MERLO, owner of a neighboring tavern, Vince & Fred's.

Last year when Gus's bowling club beat V & F three straight games, they all sent Vince flowers, wreaths and other token of solemnity.

This week Vince's club turned the tables in the bowling competition, sweeping three games from San Pedro Lunch.

So Gus got the funeral treatment.

"Just tell my friends I'm not dead yet," said Gus.

When her paper didn't arrive with the regular mail delivery Friday, she called the post office. Her neighbors, who also hadn't received their copies, did likewise.

Along with her paper, Mrs. White received an important document that was due to be returned by mail by midnight that day.

She got it off in time, as THE RECORD and the mails came through.

2. Presented awards and trophies to individual Christmas Decoration Contest winners, and tentatively set January 23 for a dinner at Westlake Joe's honoring group winners on Hillsdale avenue.

3. Sent a letter of appreciation to department of public works for work on the planted strip at Northgate and Southgate.

4. Designated next meeting for review of clubhouse insurance policy.

Movie Proves Costly For San Bruno Resident

A trip to the movies Tuesday night was expensive for Donald Howard, 763 Elm avenue, San Bruno.

Howard went into the Serra theater at 8 p.m. He parked his 1950 model car on Junipero Serra boulevard. When he returned at 10:30 p.m. he found two wheels, two tires and two hub caps missing off his vehicle.

The car boosters had used a jack to lift the car up and steal the tires and wheels. The crime was committed in full view of hundreds of motorists passing along the well-traveled boulevard.

Howard said value of the stolen parts was $39.70.

The superintendent said the district would know exactly how much property was needed within three weeks.

An audience of some 25 persons was assembled in the commission chambers but there were no protests to the McKeon zoning application other than Weibel's request for continuance.

Withdrawn Petition

In a surprise move, Mike and Thomas J. Callan Jr. withdrew petition asking commercial zoning for their property lying within the Zanone lands. It was reported that they are awaiting court verdict on the partition suit between themselves and McKeon.

Commissioners approved granting use permit to Richfield Oil Corp. to construct a service station at the southeast corner of 87th and Sullivan streets. The property, recently zoned commercial, is owned by Stoneson Development Co.

Non-conforming use permit was granted Clifford Rice to operate a radio and television business on residential property at 197 Knowles avenue.

A representative of Hahn-Wise & Associates was on hand to discuss the city's hiring of a planning consultant. Action was withheld until the next meeting February 19.

Two Jeff Seniors Reach N'tl Scholarship Finals

Two Jefferson High seniors, Bruce Freeland and John Dutcher, have been named finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition, Principal John Mongan announced today.

The pair are among the 7500 highest scorers on a nation-wide college aptitude examination given to 162,000 seniors in 12,500 high school last October.

Freeland and Dutcher this Saturday face a stiff, three-hour college board examination, plus intensive screening of their leadership and extra-curricular records by a selection board.

Saturday's exam will be given in designated testing centers throughout the country, and at least 7,000 of the Merit Finalists are expected to survive this hurdle.

At stake are more than 700 four-year college scolarships, many of them sponsored by business and industrial corporations. Included are 100 Sears-Roebuck Foundation scholarships and nation-wide programs sponsored by such corporate giants as Pittsburgh Plate Glass, F. W. Woolworth, Standard Oil (Indiana), and International Nickel.

In the final phase of competition, other accomplishments and the character of the competitors will be evaluated. About April 25, a fortunate 700 will become the Merit Scholars of 1957.

These winners may choose the colleges they wish to attend. Value of each scholarship varies with the financial need of the student, ranging from $100 to $2,200 per year or more.

The Merit Scholarship program is now in its second year. It was established through basic grants of $20,500,000 from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York. In the first year, 556 Merit Scholars were named.

Freeland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Freeland, 156 Irvington street. Dutcher's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Laurence H. Dutcher, 432 Sierra Point road, Brisbane.

from P. G. and E., a new idea in home lighting

Make your living room larger..with light!

The secret: Flood the room with soft, glare-free light — cheerful light that lifts ceilings . . . pushes walls back . . . gives the room that light, airy feeling that comes with floor-to-ceiling windows all around. Here's how to get started:

(1) Count your lamps. It takes at least five lamps to light the average living room satisfactorily. Lamp shades should be white inside and open at the top for upward lighting.

(2) Check light bulbs. Table lamps should have bulbs totalling at least 150-watts; floor lamps, 300-watts.

(3) Balance the light. Place lamps so light fills the room evenly—reducing shadows, cutting down harsh glare.

With P. G. and E.'s low rates for electricity you can easily have better light, brighter living in every room in your home! Why not start right away?

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

PL 5-0679

The holidays are over now and Villagers who were away are back—mostly, and all the decorations are down—mostly, and all the children are in school again—heavenly! With things more or less on an even keel again, we checked around town and came up with what fololws:

Stewart's Orloff family had a rather unusual Christmas—they spent it on a yacht. Specifically, it was a yacht belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown of Stockton, who happen to be Meredith O.'s sister and brother-in-law. Together with Meredith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dale of Red Bluff, the Orloffs and the Browns all went a-sailing on the Neptune, with young Richard O. doing some of the steering, no less.

Right after Christmas, Meredith was installed as an advisor for Job's Daughters Bethel 198. Other Villagers installed were Chet Mattison as father advisor, and Ruth Fisher and Inez Weibel. This interest in a young people's group puts Meredith alongside husband Martin, who has charge of a group of 18-year-old boys at Stonestown Y. Busy people, the O's!

Before we leave Stewart, there's time to report that Miss Jo Ann Bertken had a 6th birthday party, with Richard Orloff, Jimmy and Mike Northrup, Nancy Barnett, Kathy Carleton, Linda and Sanda Scafidi, Mark and Richard Baird, and Nancy, Kendee and Laurie Howell as the delighted guests. By the way, we finally learned the proper way to spell "Bertken"!

Greetings and Goodbyes

Greetings came from ex-Villagers Ed and Marie Goetsch, now Los Altans, to friends here, and Verna Duste also said to say hi to everybody. Her phone number, down San Mateo way, is FI 1-0871, and she'll be glad to welcome you via phone, if not in person. She made it up here for the annual BPOA party, as did many an "old" director, and we hear it was quite a successful affair.

Goodbyes were the order of the day on Dec. 30 for Carleton and Maryann Read, who left for Ft. MacArthur in San Pedro courtesy of a military transfer for Carleton. All their many friends were sorry indeed to see them leave, but they left a foot in the door, so to speak. Carleton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Read, are living in the home on Beechwood and keeping things going until such time as the military will let the Reads come back.

Greetings again—this time a very special sort. They go to Andrew James Connolly of Village Lane, who arrived to spend his very first Christmas with parents Marion and Bill, and brother Mike and sister Patricia. He even gave them a present—7 lbs., 5 oz. of his own loveable self!

Speaking of Christmas, we have discovered many a parent putting away (on a high shelf) an extra gross or two of new toys, to be doled out on restless rainy days, or when the first batch of new things either break or lose their charm. Secret formula: the old toys, put away and brought out bit by bit later, work just as well during fractious moments.

Patchwork

We wondered how long that new umbrella tent put up, wobbling, on the Warren Browns' front lawn would survive the onslaught of Stewart street's army of small fry. It didn't; senior Browns to the rescue, we guess! One of the Village's "new" families, Fay and Tom McTaggart of Midway, had a most terrific open house over the holidays, with many guests having a wonderful time. Tom is a first engineer for the Grace Line. . . . Congratulations to Louvaine's Phyllis Edwards, who is now one of the new vice presidents of the San Mateo County Federation of Republican Women—the SMCFRW for short! Seriously, though, she deserves it; no one worked harder during last fall's election. . . . Two very clever gals in this town—Nancy Redford and Carol Weibel, who made a tricky mobile of pink and blue felt angels and snowflakes, and hung same in the hall of the Presbyterian church during Christmas week, to the delight of all the children. . . . Village Lane's Dot Manis is beginning the new year with a new job—treasurer of the James L. Snell PTA. Hi, Dot!

Holidays or not, birthdays are pretty important all the same, especially when it's a 7th one. Melinda Hart of Maddux thought so, and invited Susie Williams, Rita Glischinski, Chrisie Mitchell, Maria Arejula, Diane Fernandes, and sister Marsha Hart to share a Sunday lunch with her. From all reports, it was an enjoyable feminine gathering.

New Year's Day was twice as delightful for Nita Delfino—it was also her birthday, and a great many of her friends came to her Washington street home to help with the celebration. Bea and Tom Gantert, Art and Millie Delfino, Billie and Bob Buchanan, Eileen and John Crofton, Bert Benitez, Marge and Jim Shields, Vi and Vin Murphy, Elsie Tabora, Naty and Larry Montez, Mary Jane and Gene O'Brien, Cora and Santos Beloy, Mrs. Jesus Azcona, and Josie and Herst Hirschel were all there in full force and had a thoroughly good time. And, of course, husband Ning was being the good host, as usual.

Kaffee Klatch

One of the nicest mornings we've spent in a long time was the one at Jane Whitehead's home on Beechwood recently, a-kaffee klatsching with good friends Sibine Fairbanks, Charlottee Spruiel, Nona Hanson and Mrs. John Glassee. There were quite a few interesting subjects discussed, and we came home with our gray matter whirring with new ideas about things.

Margaret and Ralph Damon and daughter Susan left Village lane for Woodlands over Christmas time. They spent that long weekend with Margaret's brother, Dr. Max Waters, and his family. Garden lane, on the other hand, gained another resident when Paul Malcewitz came on from Annapolis to spend the holidays with his parents, Frank and Stephanie. A second classman now, Paul had a wonderful vacation from Navy routine, and was on the go so much his family hardly saw him!

Wildwood's Gloria Cauchi is one happy gal—she will soon be having a brand new blonde sister-in-law. Seems Gloria's brother, Phil Guerrero, added an engagement to the family's holiday happinesses, and our girl Cauchi is already planning gifts and showers, etc. etc.

Junipero Serra hospital has added a new nurse to the staff—Harriet Buhman of 90th street. With previous nursing experience at New York City's Bellevue hospital, Harriet is back in uniform again on Friday and Saturday nights.

Young Stephanie Tollini of 87th street was 7 years old on Dec. 23, but decided to wait until after all the holiday fever had died down before having her party. Just as plans were getting under way, Stephanie found herself in the hospital with an emergency appendectomy, so away went the birthday party again. At last reports, our young lady is home and up and about in a quiet way, so maybe next time that elusive party will stay still long enough to be enjoyed properly.

Shadows

Friends and neighbors will be sorry to hear that Therese Mischak of Sweetwood recently suffered the loss of her sister, Mrs. Mary Petrone, who died at her home in Chicago. We would like to join them in offering our condolences to another Sweetwood resident, John Engelen, on the death of his mother.

The death of Sgt. Lacey of the SF police department was a blow to Vin and Vi Murphy, whose friend he was, and particularly to Vin, as the two men had gone to school together and had known each other for yers. A sad new year's beginning for the Murphys, for which we are truly sorry.

The help-each-other Village spirit has been active again, as the shelter on 87th and Washington, for the children who have to wait for the bus, will testify. All the materials were donated by Adam Shinazy, crossing guard at that corner, and the building was done by Ross Hilton, George Shinazy, and Al Bolander among others. Many a child will be glad of this when it's raining or a cold wind is blowing down from the hill.

Busy Times

Young Ricky Corso of Maddux turned 10 just before Christmas, and the pride and joy of the whole day was the fact that, instead of a party, he went hunting with his father. Of course, there was a family celebration as well, with cake and things.

And while we're with the Corsos, may we mention the attractive kitchen Rena reigns supreme in—beige-pink provincial wall-paper blending perfectly with the woodwork, with a touch of gold and deeper pink in the figures on said paper. Cornell Holmes and Frank C. did the work, and beautiful it is, too. Talk about luck; they painted the woodwork before Rena went looking for wallpaper to match! And with such a beautiful kitchen to show off, of course the Corsos had to have a New Year's Eve party!

Parties kept much of the Village busy That Night. This year, the Wildwood-Ellis block party took place at Gloria and Vince Cauchi's, with Don and Ruth Childers, Pat and Bill Stockslager, Tom and Irene Ralph, and Doris and Emil Chive's there, plus several couples from San Francisco. Much work went into the garage-room decorating, with everyone blowing up balloons like mad, and everybody helped with the refreshments.

The Midway-Nimitz group had a party, too. Like the first one, it was a no-host affair, and Ruth and Pete Tobin's home on Nimitz was party headquarters. There for the fun were Hilda and Herb Stettles, John and Roberta Taylor, Claire and Al Colton, Stella and Larry Magoon, Vi and Vin Murphy, and Phyllis and Harold Kullberg.

At the date of this writing, Jan. 3, a bicycle has turned up without an owner. Said bike is a blue boy's Columbia, with a 24" wheel, a torn seat and a basket in front. Serial number is W202232. If you own it or know who does, please check with the Broadmoor police department. We hope boy and bike are reunited soon.

Westlake's Big Auto Show To Feature 100 New Cars

Nearly 100 new 1957 automobiles are to be on display at Westlake Shopping Center January 30 through February 2.

At a meeting of the new car dealers of the area Thursday it was decided to exhibit three cars for each dealership, while the sports cars will be shown in stores of the vast 64-store Westlake Shopping Center.

The newest, shiniest and finest of the 1957 American production cars wil be on display in Westlake Court, while hundreds of sports car enthusiasts will stage a sport car jamboree at Westlake Saturday.

Plans at the present time call for participation of all the Daly City new car dealers, plus four from the Lake Merced area, giving complete representation of all new car franchised dealers of the area.

The sports car jamboree is to be staged under the direction of the three major Bay Area sports clubs, the Kings Highway club of San Mateo county, the Square Wheel club of Marin county and the San Francisco Sports Car club. Plans are now being made for one of the largest gathering of sports cars for the events that are now in the planning stage. A tentative committee of sports car enthusiasts is composed of Bill Carillon, Bob Madden, Ed Mamantia, Jack Bunce, Gene Hammond and Al Adolph.

Plans call for the new 1957 cars to move into the Westlike Shopping Center on Wednesday, January 30 and to be on display through Saturday, February 2.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

When we read that Mike Todd was planning to make a whopping big picture of Jules Verne's "Around the World In Eighty Days," we were mildly interested. This is one of the many classics which we never got around to, and it looked as though we'd catch up to it the easy way. As the days and weeks went by, the trade papers were full of statistics and catter, and it gradually became apparent that this would be one of the important pictures of 1956.

When it opened at the Coronet a week or so ago, we eagerly trotted to see it. From the prologue which includes the 1901 Georges Melies short, "A Journey To The Moon," and a present-day rocket roaring its way into the sky, to the main title which, in the form of a cartoon, neatly and cleverly wraps up the picture, we sat enthralled.

It Has Everything

We babbled happily about it all the way home and commented that "Around the World" had everything, even the Indian rope trick. We thought that this would be one of the easiest columns we had ever done.

The only troube is, it hasn't worked out that way. We just can't boil down into 12 inches approximately three hours of adventure, comedy, brilliant color, delicate touches of satire, unparalleled backgrounds, and a fine musical score which pours over the audience in a wild cascade thanks to Todd-AO's six channel sound. We don't know where to start. It is similar to our feeling when faced with a well-laden smorgasbord. Invariably, we hold up the entire line as we suffer agonies of indecision.

In so extravagent a film, it would have been easy to lose the story line. However, whether the main characters are crossing the Alps in a balloon, traveling through Indian jungles atop an elephant or madly firing the voracious boiler of their sidewheeler with everything except the bare decks, the story is never engulfed by the spectacle.

Great Entertainment

The element of suspense which could easily have become wearisome is handled with the same care. The various crises encountered are met with a cool determination which never fails until the last few moments of frenzied effort to reach the club in time to win the wager.

This is film-making at its best. Someday, when we're all old and grey and some of us are dead and buried and forgotten, Mike Todd's "Around the World in Eighty Days" will still be providing audiences with great entertainment.

Something For Everyone

Numerous new books on television have been added to the Daly City Public Library's collection in the last year or two to help meet increasing demand for material on this popular subject.

For the amateur television repairman, the Library has John Derby's POPULAR MECHANICS FIX - IT - YOURSELF TELEVISION MANUAL and John Markus' TELEVISION AND RADIO REPAIRING. Those who wish to go into the intricacies further, or who are repairing TV on a commercial scale, will wish to consult TELEVISION SERVICING, THEORY AND PRACTICE, by Walter H. Bucksbaum and TELEVISION SERVICING, by Matthew Mandl.

Television authorship, a field in which there has been increasing interest, is covered in such books as WRITING FOR TELEVISION, by Eric Heath. Other opportunities are covered in YOUR CAREER IN TELEVISION, by William I. Kaufman and OPPORTUNITIES IN TELEVISION, one of the excellent Vocational Guidance Manual pamphlets.

The place of television in American life is covered seriously, but entertainingly, in Gilbert Seldes' new volume, THE PUBLIC ARTS, a revision and rewriting of his earlier success, THE SEVEN LIVELY ARTS. Goodman Ace's THE BOOK OF LITTLE KNOWLEDGE is a collection of his witty, often biting, critiques of important programs and performers.

Those who want a deeper appreciation of some of TV's best comedians will enjoy Steve Allen's THE FUNNY MEN, in which one of them gives the inside story on how difficult it is to be funny. Jim Bishop's THE GOLDEN HAM, a biography of Jackie Gleason, is also enjoying current popularity.

In addition to the type of books mentioned above, the Library also has several excellent volumes to help children and young people understand "what makes it work." These include Jack Gould's ALL ABOUT RADIO AND TELEVISION and Edward Stoddard's THE FIRST BOOK OF TELEVISION.

The Library also has many of the novels and plays which have enjoyed successful presentation on TV, including Paddy Chayefsk's TELEVISION PLAYS, which contains MARTY and four others of the author's best offerings.

For those who are thinking of investing in a new TV set, may we suggest that they first consult two of the most popular periodicals at the Library: CONSUMER REPORTS and CONSUMERS' RESEARCH BULLETIN. These two publications test and rate commercial products of all kinds, and will help buyers to spend their money more wisely and to better satisfaction. RADIO AND TELEVISION NEWS is another periodical of interest to those concerned with the more technical aspects of radio and television production and repair.

To reserve any of the titles mentioned above, or for further information, consult the Daly City Public Library, 6351 Mission street, or the Westlake-Broadmoor Branch Library, 34 Park Plaza drive. Remember, your Public Library has something for everyone!

SEWAGE FROM NEW SUBDIVISION WILL FLOW BY GRAVITY

All sewage from the St. Francis Heights subdivision will flow direct to the treatment plant by force of gravity, and no pumping will be necessary, Engineer C. L. White told the North San Mateo County Sanitation district directors Monday.

Possibility of having to install pumping stations to handle sewage from the proposed subdivision had been a major issue in the controversy on annexing the 276-acre tract to the sanitation district.

Directors accepted White's report.

In other action, the board:

1. Denied application from James Kennedy, 1000 South Mayfair, for easement near his property to construct a garage. Directors said the garage would make it impossible to exavate in case repairs were needed on the sewage line which passes under the property at a depth of 11 feet.

2. Received notice of state acceptance for plans to install an 18-inch supplemental line across Alemany at cost of $10,371. The state contribute $5411.97 in chapter 20 funds to the project.

Municipal Court Greets Public Today --In A Different Way

In observation of "Municipal Court Month" Judge Thomas L. Bocci Jr. announced today that an open house will be held this Friday at northern district municipal court.

All departments of the court will be available for inspection and attaches of the court will be prepared to answer all questions concerning functions of their individual departments. Bocci urged the public to attend and "familiarize themselves with the court system."

The northern district court serves Daly City, South San Francisco, San Bruno, Colma and unincorporated areas in northern San Mateo county.

Busiest department of the court is the traffic division, which processes in excess of 65,000 traffic citations a year, Bocci said.

Next in order is the criminal department, 2000 complaints per year, and the civil department, 1000 actions annually.

Volume of money accounted for in fines and filing fees amounts to more than $250,000 a year, the judge continued.

Court staff consists of a clerk, seven deputies, a bailiff and a court reporter.

Judge Bocci said he and his staff will be on hand personally to greet the public.

Schools Group Plans Program With 'Backbone'

because it endorsed so many candidates that the vote was split, making it easy for the incumbents to be re-elected.

Consensus was that the new school group should not be composed of delegates from community organizations, but instead from individuals who could speak for themselves.

Among issues touched on briefly by the group included the school district's apparent disregard of a survey on teacher turn-over.

Freiberg said he had found the school board "amenable to pressure" and urged that the new citizens group work for a large membership.

Bob Smith, 79 Fairway, said it would be better for the group to work on improving the district and from this work would come qualified trustee candidates. He said it would place the organization in a "difficult position" to act as a pressure group.

"Not Strong Enough"

Leavick said the present school board was "not strong enough. I know of two people now in this category. We should have a strong board that tells the superintendent the policy. Not vice versa. There's not enough beefing on the board. They all vote the same."

Freiberg agreed, claiming, "The board is run by two people. The trustees are sincere and it is our job to back them when they're right—and oppose them if they're wrong. We've got to elect the right people and get rid of those who always say 'aye.' They're not bad people, although maybe one or two are prejudiced at times."

Mel Battye, president of the League for Better Schools, said today he would call a special meeting of his group by January 21.

The new schools organization will investigate if it is possible for them to take over the League's name and bylaws, which would be amended to conform to the new ideas expressed by those present Monday.

In addition to those already mentioned, others in attendance Monday were: Mrs. Jack White, 689 Templeton; Marie Sorensen, 80 Garden Grove; Stanley Brown, 103 Village lane; Jeanne Wiemar, 66 Frankfort; and Dorothy Rhodes, 62 Frankfort.

SWEARING IN — San Mateo county officials (left to right) Louis Francis, 25th district Assemblyman, Richard J. Dolwig, and Carl "Ike" Britschgi, state senators, were sworn in as members of the California state legislature Monday in Sacramento.

While the PUC can approve the application ex parte, without hearing, if there is no apparent opposition, councilmen agreed that request should be made to the commission for a hearing.

Councilman Paul Hupf of the transportation committee was directed to call a meeting for January 23, at which time all persons affected by the route change would be invited.

Councilman Micheal De Bernardi, one of the original backers of the jitney form of transportation, said, "It looks like we might have a fight on our hands. This is a pitfall we predicted. By letting the jitneys go out of the city limit and under the PUC we have lost our control."

Contacted by THE RECORD Wednesday, a spokesman for the jitney firm said he did not know whether or not his company had made any applications for route changes.

Two Daly City stepbrothers who left home New Year's day with $350 of their parents' money turned up Friday at their uncle's home in Auburn, Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Crouch, 1014 Hanover street, have made arrangements with county juvenile authorities to return the boys here this week.

The oldest, Larry G. Noah, 17, was placed on probation last month by juvenile authorities. The younger boy, John F. Wolfe, 8, is a student at General Pershing.

Christmas Tree Fire Causes $800 Damage

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Oliva, 606 San Diego avenue, were taking their Christmas tree down and packing the lights and ornaments in cotton Sunday when a cigarette caught the dry branches on fire and caused a blaze which resulted in $800 damage to their living room.

The blaze swept the table on which the tree was standing, the drapes and the rug, and caused considerable smoke damage, according to Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy.

TV and Radio

By Mona Baker

PROGRAMS in 1957 . . . The other day we stopped, took a look at our desk and found it stacked high with items about new programs and changes on which we had made brief notes and set aside to mention in our column. Time goes, stories seem to break right and left, and the releases pile up! It is impossible to mention all changes, but from time to time we do like to tell you about a few of them.

When KQED returned to the air this week, it really set some sort of record with the many new shows. For the youngsters, Channel 9 has divided programs into two categories. From 4:30 to 5 p.m. on weekdays, the programs will be slanted to younger children. A new show for the tricycle set is "Rhymes and Games" (4:30 p.m., Mondays). From 6 to 7 p.m. will be devoted to older children, with some programs specifically designed for high school students. A new program for this age group is "Music For Young People" (Mondays, 6 p.m.)

For Grownups

Adult programs include a new series of "Tempest in a Test Tube" (Mondays, 7:30 p.m.,) "Introduction to Investments" (Tuesdays, 8:30 p.m.,) "Writers of Today" (Wednesdays, 4 and 8 p.m.) and "The Elements" (Fridays, 7:30 p.m.).

An important program change on KRON-TV is "Home," seen now at 10 a.m., Monday through Friday. "Ding Dong School" has left the air after 1,105 consecutive NBC-TV telecasts. New local programs on KRON-TV include "Ask Your Governer" (monthly), "Commonwealth Topics" (Fridays, 2:30 p.m.), and new series of "Time for Youth" (monthly).

Two outstanding programs to be seen over NBC, KRON-TV, include the American premiere of "War and Peace," which will be telecast in color and will run 2½ hours this Sunday, and in the spring a telecast, "Assignment: Southeast Asia." An NBC task force has just returned from a three months trip, covering 100,000 miles and exposing 90,000 feet of color film for the telecast.

New Features

Two important new programs premiered over KPIX this week, "Confidential File" Sundays, 11 p.m.) and "Odyssey" (Sundays, 1 p.m.). The outstanding television show "See It Now" will be carried live whenever it is telecast by Channel 5 on Sundays at 2 p.m. Other additions on KPIX include "Big Movie Matinee," a series of top motion pictures shown daily at 4:30 p.m., and for pre-school children, the fine program "Adventure School," seen week-days at 10 a.m.

KGO-TV has scheduled "Press Conference," an outstanding news program featuring Martha Rountree, to be shown at 5:30 p.m. on Sundays. Two new programs on Channel 7 include "State Trooper" (Tuesdays, 10 p.m.), and "This Is Galen Drake," a variety show which will premiere Jan. 19 at 7 p.m.

We've mentioned only a few of the television changes . . . we hope to cover radio next week. Do you wonder our desk is piled high?

State Cracks Down On 4 Drivers Here

Four local drivers had their licenses suspended by recent action of the California Department of Motor Vehicles.

Fred C. Bertetta Jr., 10 Wilshire court, was placed on probation and suspended 90 days. Probation and 30 days suspension were ordered for Jack R. DeBruin, 70 Oaklawn drive, apartment 18.

Indefinite suspensions were handed Benjamin B. Javier, Box 68, Hoffman street, Colma, and Leon A. Shepard, 266 Hillside drive, Sharp Park.

No suspension was recommended for Francis R. Johnson, 143 Castle street, convicted of drunken driving.

Permanently reinstated were Wayne C. Chapin, 78 Fairlawn avenue; Herman M. Linkerman, 25 Parkwood drive, and Peter L. Lofrano, 439 Knowles avenue.

ARREST SF BREWER FOR DRUNK DRIVING ON JUNIPERO SERRA

John F. Hurley, 45, San Francisco brewer, was arrested for drunk driving here last Wednesday after officers observed his car weaving in and out of northbound lanes on Junipero Serra boulevard.

Hurley was given a "walking" test on the scene and a sobriety test at the police station. He flunked the latter.

Released on $500 cash bail, he is scheduled to appear in court next Tuesday.

B'nai B'rith Slates 'Adventure In Safety'

"Adventure In Safety" headlines the January 16 meeting of the California Daytimers B'nai B'rith Society. It will be a cost luncheon in the Lakeshore Plaza auditorium at 12 noon.

John H. Brooke, safety director of the Yellow Cab Co., will give a lecture entitled, "What Happens To A Vehicle When You Drive It."

DALY CITY'S Robert H. Barr, manager of the Yellow Cab Company here, recently assumed his new duties as president of the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce board of directors. The 29-year-old Westlake resident, 63 Garden Grove drive, has been a member of the junior chamber since 1951. Last year he served as executive vice president of the group and was instrumental in bringing the Western Open Golf Tournament to San Francisco.

SF SCHOOL OFFERS PREP COURSE FOR REAL ESTATE EXAM

Training for the California real estate salesmen's examination will be available at the John A. O'Connell Vocational evening High School and Technical Institute, 21st and Harrison streets, on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. beginning January 14.

No previous experience is required to be eligible for this class which is sponsored by the Adult Education Division of the San Francisco Public Schools.

The class, according to Joseph Ballarin, instructor, will include all materials which are covered in the state examination for real estate salesmen.

Sizzling Jeff Grabs North PAL Cage Lead

Tribe Stops SM, Blingum; Duel Lowly Knights Next

Perched atop the North PAL after two key victories, Jefferson's classy and confident Indians are lopsided favorites to pick up their third scalp this Friday night when they entertain winless Hillsdale in the Tribe gym. Action at 7:30 o'clock with the lightweight tilt.

Coach Mike Orlich, proud like a peacock, isn't underselling the invaders, however. The San Mateans are a ball control club and could be spoilers. But off Jeff's smashing win over San Mateo last Friday and Tuesday's nervous triumph over tough Burlingame, the local figure to roll on in their title bid.

Pottinger Spurts

Friday's cork popper raised eyebrows up and down the circuit as Larry Pottinger and Company walloped the defending champion Bearcats, 65-45, leading all the way and never pressed.

Pottinger, perhaps the best in the loop, gunned the one-sided romp with 24 points. Next in line were guard Barry Haanen, with 12, and pivot Tom Cloutier, 10.

The Indians really stepped on the gas in the second half after leading at the midway point, 26-21.

Steve Mezzera's 30's also started off with a roar, throttling the SM small fry, 42-35. Forward Wayne Lewis did most of the damage, bagging 15 points. Ino Patron found the range for 11. The losers spurted ahead in the third quarter, but Jeff pulled it out in a torrid fourth period.

Whirlwind Finish

The Burlingame battle Tuesday was a nerve-cracker right down to the finish. Pottinger's field goal with 16 seconds left gave the Tribe a hectic 45-43 verdict.

Larry, pumping in 16 points for the afternoon, came through with a typical clutch effort. His two free throws tied the score at 43-all to set the stage for his clincher.

Pottinger fouled Blingum's Tom Chase just before the gun, giving the Panthers a chance to tie it via two free throws and send the tilt into overtime. But Chase missed both tosses and Jeff squeaked by.

Orlich's charges got off to a slow start, hitting only eight of 38 shots in the first half. They enjoyed a 21-20 halftime edge, but fell behind 33-31 at the end of the third quarter.

Key Figures

Guard Gary Ryan trailed Pottinger in the books, contributing 10 big points. Bob Comstock, other forward, got 8.

Blingum's 30's handed Jeff's lightweights their first set back in the opener, 42-37. Lewis again sparkled for the locals with 15 markers.

Halftime count was 22-16, Burlingame. Mezzera's kids trailed from start to finish.

Capuchino and Carlmont, Jeff's main rivals for the crown, both chalked up impressive first wins. The Caps, geared by 6-7 center Gary Estabrook, thumped Hillsdale last week, 52-37.

Carlmont slapped the Knights Tuesday by a 43-31 margin.

Hillsdale's chief threats against Jeff will be two good guards, Len Nicholson and Bob Jachens. The Knights' main drawback is lack of balance.

Jeff draws a bye next Tuesday. Their next foe will be Carlmont here next Friday night. Tuesday's slate finds Carlmont at San Mateo, Capuchino at Burlingame and Hillsdale at South City.

BACKBONE of Jeff's title drive in the North PAL race is sensational senior forward Larry Pottinger. The southpaw jump-shot artist bagged 24 points Friday against San Mateo and got 16 more in Tuesday's clash with Burlingame, the Indians prevailing, 45-43. Larry and his mates go after win number three here this Friday night against Hillside. THE RECORD photo

The Ram 30's, however, were blitzed in the opener, by a surprising 39-22 count.

Coach Tony Giammona's varsity pulled away in the second half after leaving the court 22-all at the intermission.

Lewetzou, a standout to date, bagged seven field goals and four free throws. Forward Leo Wyreck and center Larry Schoenfeldt each contributed eight points.

St. Gabriel's Gaels hiked their unbeaten streak to five games Saturday, but the second place Rec Department five stayed right on their heels in the City Elementary League by splattering St. Michael's, 61-22.

Sonny Stroller was the center of attraction for Rec, splurging for 30 points on 14 field goals and two charity tosses. His feat was the top individual effort of the campaign.

Bobby Scott's 20 points led St. Gabriel's easy 38-22 triumph over Holy Angels.

In another Class A tilt, St. Jame's came from behind to down the Broadmoor Youth Association quint, 30-24. Jack Kelly and Joe Coughlan sparked the last quarter upsurge with 12 points between them. BYA was held to four points in the final period.

In a slow moving scrap, OLPH stopped Sacred Heart, 23-15. High for the winners was Mike Kennedy with 11 points, eight of which came in the second half.

St. Stephens remained supreme in the Class B loop, dumping St. Gabriel's Babes, 23-14. The tilt was close until Jim Guintini and Ron Sobeck of the losers fouled out in the fourth quarter. Sobeck collected 12 of his team's 14 points.

Ancient PAL Dissolves, Form 2 Loops

The Peninsula Athletic League, governing alliance of prep teams from Daly City to San Jose since the late 1920's, officially "died" Monday as the Board of Managers unanimously voted to establish independent North and South PAL leagues in all major sports.

The action, taken at a meeting in Redwood City, thus ended five years of debate on the "unwieldy" setup.

Playoffs Out

Actually, the PAL was divided into two separate branches before Monday's decision, with competition on a divisional basis. But control by a single board of managers and championship playoffs will bow out at the end of this semester.

Monday's long-awaited move authorized two self-governing, eight-team leagues. Chief changes were the assignment of Carlmont to the South PAL and the addition of Half Moon Bay to the North PAL.

Effective next fall, the North PAL will include Jefferson, Westmoor, Burlingame, Capuchino, Half Moon Bay, Hillsdale, and San Mateo and South San Francisco.

South PAL membership will embrace Carlmont, Cubberley, Lincoln, Palo Alto, San Jose, Sequoia, Menlo-Atherton and Willow Glen.

George McKeown will supervise the two leagues as commissioner.

Final Session

The PAL board of managers, headed by John Mongan of Jefferson, will hold a final, wrap-up meeting later this spring. The session will be devoted to resolving the body's financial affairs.

The new North PAL board of managers held a brief meeting Monday to launch their plans. Elected president was Paul Claudon, Capuchino principal. Glenn South of Westmoor was chosen vice president and treasurer, and Ray Allee of Hillsdale was named secretary.

Next meeting of the North PAL board will be January 29 at the El Rancho motel in Millbrae.

Floyd H. Russell, Willow Glen principal, was elected president of the South PAL board of managers. Others chosen were Al Terremere, Carlmont, vice president; Jim Laurits, Cubberley, treasurer, and George Hunter, Lincoln, secretary.

Vince & Fred's Gang 'Hand' Kegling Lead To M & O

Thanks to a sizzling performance by Vince & Fred's, the McGahey & Olson bowlers retained leadership in the Daly City-Colma League Tuesday night as second half action began at Brentwood Bowl.

The liquormen, paced by Ken Edison and Ernie Cool, knocked San Pedro Lunch out of a tie for first by with a series sweep. M&O was on the short end of a 2-1 verdict with Daly City Cleaners.

Other whitewashes were racked up by Carmona Chemical over Luce Meats, Donnellan Realty over Westlake Homes, and Bank of America by forfeit over Paul's Flowers.

Tony Santos sparked Towne House to a split nod over Plaza Furniture to keep the South City contingent in third place. Also winning by 2-1 margins were Brisbane Market over Carlo's Pizzeria and Edisco over Thur Meats. Edisco thus emarged for the first time from the cellar.

Santos posted the evening's high series with a 587, on games of 212, 187 and 188. High singles was rolled by H. Barber, Carlos Pizzeria, with a 244 third game. His series total was 584.

Vince & Fred's stunning sweep over San Pedro found the top-of-the-hillers chalking up 2786 pins, 15 shy of San Pedro's loop best to date of 2801.

Next week's games match McGahey & Olson and Edisco, San Pedro and Carmona, Towne House and Donnellan Realty, and Brisbane Market against Thur Meats.
